FOREWORD

Medina Senior High School offers its sudents unlimited opportunities in order that they may grow in many ways during their four years here.

There are opportunities for self-expression through music, drama, and art; intellectual stimulation by way of research for advanced courses; learning by teaching others in the tutorial program; or, acquiring marketable skills through the vocational programs.

MHS also provides unlimited opportunities for appreciation of the simple things such as hearing a sparkling laugh, a whisper in study hall, a squeal in biology, or a melodious chord from the music wing; seeing a freshman on his first day, tears as the scoreboard declares defeat, a couple holding hands, a coach's sidelines frustrations, or, seniors making that last trek down the halls; doing homework on time, building a float, decorating for the prom, typing a friend's term paper; or, just being a part of the school by standing in clustered groups, cheering at ball games, dancing at canteens, canvassing for scholarship funds, or carting in canned food for the annual Christmas canned food drive.

Yes, there are opportunities—for those who wish to seize theme—opportunities that will prepare the student to enter the adult world at graduation time.

In this volume, the MEDINIAN staff presents for you a closer look at these "Opportunities Unlimited."

DeKANE/MONITOR

Languages, as everyone knows, play a major role in achieving better communications between countries. With such modern aides as the language lab, MHS students are learning to be the diplomats of tomorrow. Languages include studies in German, Latin, French, and Spanish, to give each student the choice he desires.

English, a required course for every student in the first three years, can also be made interesting. English projects, such as those by the seniors, have helped make the times of the past come alive. The student is able to acquire a solid knowledge of lands abroad, as well attaining the basics of grammar and spelling.

Speech and dramatics, is a course often ignored when thoughts of language courses arise. An elective, speech offers the student interested in pursuing the finer points of debate, dramatics, and public speaking, a good background. In the course of the year, plays were written and produced, the art of makeup studied, and a wide range of speeches written and presented to the individual classes.

Science and math courses teach organization of facts into meaningful relationships

Medina offers its students an opportunity to obtain a taste of each of the principal sciences: biology, physical science, chemistry, and physics. Through biology, sophomores evolve a theory of the origin, development, structure, and functions of plants and animals; through chemistry as juniors, an understanding of the composition of substances; and, through physics as seniors, a knowledge of the phenomena of matter and energy. It is through this study and laboratory work which changes facts in print to reality that the students are able to meet a scientific future confidently.

Math courses enable the students to understand some of the sciences more fully. There is a variety of math offered here, from algebra I and geometry to trigonometry and calculus. This year, a computer has been added to the equipment of the math department, and has fascinated many students. Some students have even written programs for it.

countless opportunities to think and perform creatively

Music and art are talents no well-rounded person can afford not to refine. Medina's fine arts department excels in encouraging interests in all forms of beauty, from a perfect note to an oil portrait. The marching band provides entertainment at football games after long, hard days of practice. The concert and pep bands have also added to our enjoyment and prestige.

This year the art classes have kept not only the showcases full of their work, but also the halls and lobby. Besides this active creating, there are courses which seek to develop an appreciation for the fine arts through historical background.

Vocational courses build basic skills and business aptitudes

The Home Economics department is one that is often overlooked when it comes to praise. In this department, the girls are taught all of the fine arts of homemaking, and their interest in building good and stable homes is encouraged. Home Economics has been added this year to the curriculum as a vocational course, based on the same standards as DE and DCT.

Business education courses afford, not only unlimited opportunity for students planning to pursue a career in business, but also offer personal-use subjects, such as personal typing and notehand which aid in improving study habits.

Boys have found industrial arts and mechanical drawing not only interesting but fun. In the machine shop, they are able to tinker with engines and learn valuable things about machines.

Social studies department produces true citizens

In order to produce these responsible citizens, the social studies department gives a basic background of the histories and governments of different countries. Special attention is given to the United States in studying civics, economics, and American history. These subjects are highlighted by films, maps, and charts. In classrooms, discussions were long and heated as the Presidential election presented many points for arguments.

Teaching is a year-round profession

Faculty members for the 1968-69 school year at Medina Senior High School bring to the students of the district years of experience and advanced training as evidenced in a recent survey. Thirty-two colleges and universities are represented by staff members. The ranks of the sixteen members now holding Master degrees should be swelled by at least five by September since several teachers plan to acquire the added degree this summer.

Our educators also bring a broad background knowledge of foreign nations to our classrooms. From the European countries of England, France, Germany, and Austria, to Cuba and Mexico in the Caribbean, to the Philippines in the Pacific, comes first-hand information from faculty members who have travelled or resided there.

Summer, while it is a time for some to pursue further training, or a vacation, is also a time for staff members to add other skills and knowledges to their credentials by taking jobs as commercial painters, cafeteria cashiers, food processors, youth counselors, resort managers, or fair program service managers.

Our students are, indeed, truly blessed by a faculty with experience, training, and a wide general background. Thus, this faculty is well qualified to lead the youth of MHS to accomplish their lofty goals.

Today's youth lost a friend and interested teacher with the passing of Mrs. Keck last autumn. Mrs. Keck, who so ably and graciously substituted for Mrs. Holdridge in Latin and English when school began last September received injuries in a fall. A short time later, death unexpectedly claimed this vivacious and young-in-spirit teacher. Students at Medina Senior High School will surely miss her cheerful smile, her unselfish, helpful attitude, and her sincere interest in them. Yes, today's youth has indeed lost a friend in the passing of Mrs. Keck.

The Battling Bees' determination

Bill Street anxiously waits at the sidelines while Coach Tibbits decides which play to send in.

MEDINA—CLOVERLEAF

The Battling Bees opened the season with a victory over the Cloverleaf Colts. Ken McEwen scored on a three-yard jaunt in the early stages of the game. Cloverleaf took the kickoff and was unable to move the ball. When Medina regained possession of the ball, Jeff Karson broke loose for 52 yards and the score. Cloverleaf came back quickly, gradually moving the ball in for a TD. The third quarter was a defensive battle between the two teams. Medina and Cloverleaf exchanged scores in the fourth quarter to arrive at the 18-12 final score.

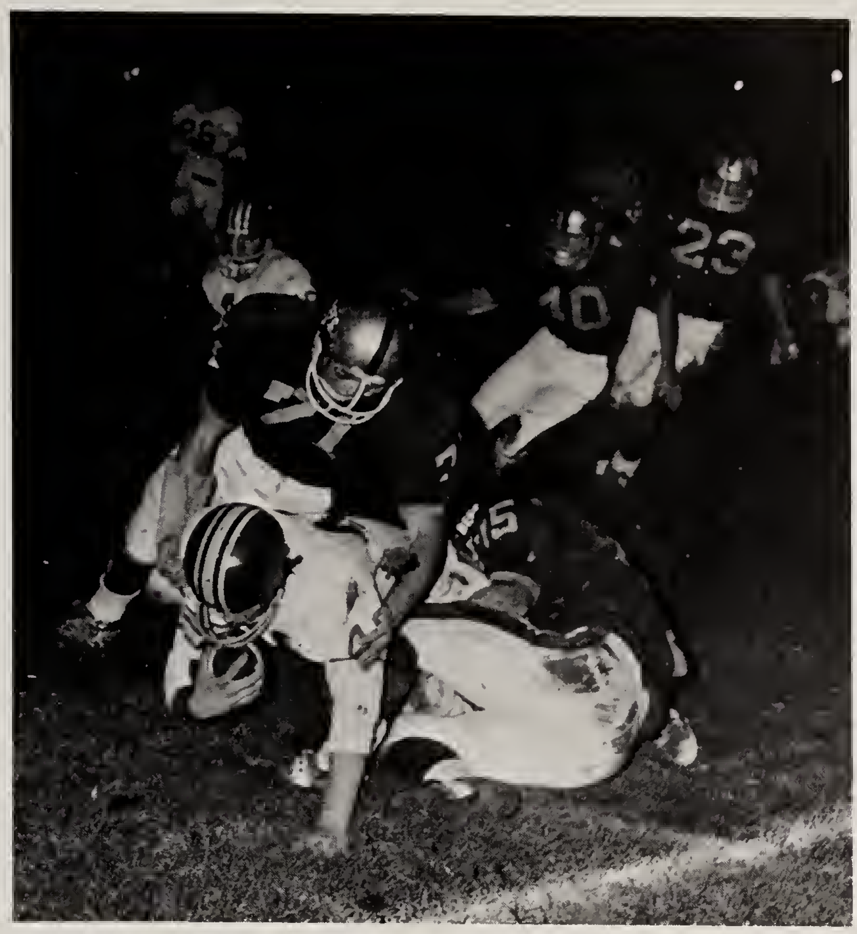
MEDINA—BAY VILLAGE

Medina suffered a bad night of fumbles and missed assignments which resulted in a closely fought battle and a 15-14 defeat. An early interception by Rick Dye and a 25-yard romp by Doug Jones put Medina on the scoreboard. Bay Village gained possession of the ball late in the second quarter on a long punt return which put them in touchdown position. They scored in the closing seconds of the half which ended in an 8-8 tie. The Rockets scored in the third quarter with a pass reception, added the extra point, and left Medina behind seven points. Medina had a drive in the fourth quarter to the 4-yard line but failed to score. Bay took over the ball and fumbled in the end zone. Jones recovered for Medina for 6 points. The Bees, failed in a bid for the PAT and were shy a single point. Clevidence's perfect onside kick was recovered by Keefer. Medina penetrated into Rocket territory but were stopped by a costly fumble recovered by Bay. Bay ran the clock out leaving Medina with defeat.

Al Keefer s-t-r-e-t-c-h-e-s for the ball as he is closely guarded.

Rick Dye moves into position to block a deep pass.

was the key word in Football



Ray Eckert and Bill Lawrence stop the ball carrier as more Bees move in.

Ken McEwen finds daylight as he runs to the outside.

MEDINA—AVON LAKE

Undefeated Avon Lake kept their record unblemished as they won their second conference encounter by a score of 40-6. The Shoremen's aerial attack overpowered the Medina defense. The only Medina score came early in the their quarter on Medina's first drive. Content, Avon Lake went home with another victory under their belts on their way to another Southwestern Conference championship.

MEDINA—OLMSTED FALLS

Medina beat Olmsted Falls every way but on the scoreboard. The Green and White racked up 283 yards rushing to the opponents' 170. The Bees were called for illegal buzzing too many times and were penalized a total of 145 yards. A fine exhibition of running by Doug Jones is shown by his average of nine yards per carry for that night. Paul Header provided the only score of the tilt for the Locals in what proved to be one of their best games of the season.

MEDINA—ROCKY RIVER

The Bees suffered another bad night of missed assignments and too many penalties as they fell to the Rocky River Pirates by a 20-0 score. Medina racked up a 195-185 edge in rushing, but a few breakaway plays by River and the Bees' 115 yards in penalties put the Pirates on top. The Green and White started the game off on the wrong foot by throwing an interception on the first play from scrimmage. Medina played the first part of the game inside their own twenty. By the end of the first half the Bees had only one big drive but it failed to materialize because of too many incompleted passes.

Pat Karson and Doug Jones combine their forces for a reception.

Terry Scherz moves into a swarm of Eagle defenders.

Mark Hunter rips around end for a long gain.

MEDINA—FAIRVIEW

Medina, plagued throughout the season by bad luck, dropped another game to Fairview by a score of 35-0. The Warriors dominated play throughout the game, and controlled the ball well to beat the Bees.

MEDINA—NORTH OLMSTED

The NO Eagles scored early in the game on a breakaway play. The Bees buzzed back on the following series with a drive that was capped by a fine run by Terry Scherz. The second unit backfield, replacing the mainliners because of previous injuries, proved to be effective. Early in the second half, Medina took control of the ball and punched in for the score. The lead was shortlived, however, as the Eagles came right back to score for a tie. An Eagle score in the fourth quarter proved to be the difference. The "Beecoming" game ended in a close 22-14 defeat.

MEDINA—WESTLAKE

Medina set out to avenge a disappointing season as the Bees produced a team of which Medina could be proud

scored two touchdowns in the first quarter with runs by Mark Hunter and Larry Collins. At this point it appeared to be a run-away game for Medina as Westlake's attempts to score were futile. The Bees tallied again and had a 21-0 halftime lead. The Demons were able to score 22 points against the Bee second team but this was not sufficient. The 34-point total found Collins with 18, Hunter, 6, Header, 6, Jones and Williams with 2 each.

MEDINA—WADSWORTH

The Grizzlies and Bees met on a mud-drenched field to renew the long rivalry between them. The Grizzlies proved to be as tough as predicted. Wadsworth scored twice in the first half on long, breakaway runs. The Bees, plagued all year by a third-quarter jinx, suffered two more scores by a spirited Wadsworth team. The single Bee score came late in the fourth quarter on a pass from Olds to Header. The PAT was unsuccessful and the game ended in a 28-6 decision.

Glenn Olds blocks pass attempt for conversion by the Grizzlies.

A scrappy Medina defensive team awaits the snap.

From a disappointing start, the 1968 Medina Basketball Bees improved as the year went on, winning the last six games of the regular season to accumulate a 9-10 record. Against the toughest set of teams in the Southwestern Conference in recent years, Medina fared a 7-7 mark, and proved most impressive against Bay Village and North Olmsted.

Doug Jones won the Most Valuable Player award as well as the Highest Rebounding award. Sophomore Al Keener won the Foul Shooting award, while junior John Haas annexed the Most-Improved Player award.

Bee Bandsmen present another entertaining season

Musical Bee members hear the shrill cry of the drum major's whistle long before the school bell summons other school members back to its classrooms. This pre-school practice plus double period music sessions in school and line drill after school, our Musical Bees prove that constant practice does make perfect.

Always striving for perfection and extra effort, directors Charles Carey and James Mougey spend many extra hours in working out intricate steps and polishing arrangements for such productions as "Tea for Two" and "Mame."

A special homecoming show was highlighted by blue and red lights striding in perfect cadence across the darkened field.

Medina students are indeed proud of their own Musical Bees and eagerly await their performances whether on the football field or on the city streets.

RIGHT: Our snappy front line—Gary Jones, drum major, Kris High and Gene Steiner, twirlers.

The Medinian staff has worked many long and difficult hours to make this book into the finished project you see before you. They have taken pictures, written hundreds of lines of copy, and worried about meeting deadlines, all under the critical eye of their adviser, Mr. Webb.

Finally, the result of their efforts was sent off to the publisher, and was returned in the form you now hold.

Throughout the school year, the Girls' Leaders Club participates enthusiastically in activities within the school and in the community. Their projects have included sending boxes of toys to a Medinian in Viet Nam for the children there, sending toothbrushes and other things to Caney College in Appalachia, and being responsible for the entire publicity campaign in the Medina area for the Christmas Seals Drive.

They have also promoted school spirit by making the basketball teams their brothers and feeding them after games. Within the club itself friendships are developed through "secret pals" and the traveling basket.

These things are done with the hope of developing further the leadership, scholarship, citizenship, and sportsmanship in each girl and to have fun doing it.

FHA performed community services this year while mixing them with fun. They met after school early in the year to make popcorn balls which they later took to a rest home.

They held an intra-club pizza party in the winter and in the spring had a baked goods booth at the carnival.

FHA acquired two new advisers this year. Miss Cox and Miss Hornberger guided the club through an interesting and very busy year.

FTA gains knowledge through experience

LEFT: Mrs. Elrick and Jill Harsin discuss plans for the next meeting.

BELOW: Gordon Duncan gives his class instruction while student teaching in the elementary schools.

The purpose of Future Teachers of America is to stimulate students' interest in teaching. Judging by its membership and activities, the MHS chapter is well on its way to reaching that goal.

FTA met once a month, holding a potluck supper along with each meeting. These meetings usually included a speaker or film, and one of the more interesting was Mr. Schamp, who told of his Peace Corps experiences in the Philippines.

In the winter, FTA took a field trip to Baldwin-Wallace College for an FTA convention. Junior and senior members also had several opportunities to visit the elementary schools to observe and to teach.

Elaine Fetzer, in her second year as Y-teens president worked closely with Miss Muren to make Y-teens a bigger and better club. Y-teens performed a valuable service to the school again this year by operating a coat-check during home basketball games. This coat check was very well patronized and the girls who worked were kept very busy.

Other activities of Y-teens during the year included bake sales, several parties, and a trip in the spring.

Art Club members show hidden abilities.

Art Club, under the careful direction of Mrs. Marna Christy, delved deeply into the mysteries of scientific art forms and used their creative imaginations to produce some works of art the like of which have never before been seen at MHS. They also did posters and scenery for various dramatic productions.

This club presents an oportunity for those with artistic talents or inclinations to use these talents, whether or not they take an art class as part of their curriculum.

DCT has active, rewarding year.

This past year, the diversified co-operative training program has been extremely successful in bringing selected students on the job training. These students worked in a variety of industries, from drafting to hospital work.

The DCT students worked closely with Mr. Jaskol in planning several successful projects. This past fall, several students went to the state DCT convention. They also sponsored a car wash.

The highlight of the year was the DCT banquet held at the Brown Derby. This banquet gave the students an opportunity to honor their employers.

DECA is an organization designed specifically for students enrolled in Distributive Education. The purposes of DECA are to further develop a respect for education in marketing and distribution which will contribute to vocational competence, and to promote understanding and appreciation for the responsibilities of citizenship in our free, competitive enterprise system.

This year DECA was particularly honored when Chuck Butt received third place in state-wide competition.

CANDIDS!

"Man, you know I light up when there's a camera around; right, Gary?" beams Ed Davis

Gail didn't quite hit that high note, did she, Claudia?

Second lunch line opens with hungry students and hot fries.

Tim Myers! get that thought out of your mind that says, "Find a squeamish girl and show her this biology specimen."

RIGHT: My, the teachers are getting younger and prettier all the time!

Vauvenargues said, "The greatest Achievement of the human spirit is to live up to one's opportunities and make the most of one's resources." This year we have attempted to portray the opportunities afforded students here at MHS.

Students attending school in order to seize these opportunities were affected by affairs and events from the local school level to international happenings.

In this presidential election year, we heard names such as Romney, Rockefeller, Reagan, McCarthy, Kennedy, and Humphrey. While the Vietnam War became the big political issue, the United States found itself in an embarrassing situation with the Pueblo Incident.

Violence continued in the world; and, here in the United States of America, Martin Luther King and Senator Robert F. Kennedy were gunned down by assassins' bullets.

College students continued to riot for many and varied reasons and took over administration buildings on several campuses. Stories of LSD and marijuana mingled with the strike news.

Death claimed the lives of two Alabama women—Helen Keller, who gave courage and inspiration to millions; and, Governor Lurleen Wallace. On the plus side, medical history was made in South Africa where the apparent first successful human heart transplant took place.

Top movies were "The Graduate" and "Bonnie and Clyde." Kids boogalooed and shingalinged to the music of Spanky and Our Gang and The Electric Prunes. Tiny Tim became a sensation. Sayings such as "groovy" and "blew my mind" were frequently heard.

The local city scene found community leaders planning for a sesquicentennial celebration in June, 1968. A new court annex took shape and the fire house got a face lifting with a coat of red paint.

Through all the happenings, school went on about as usual with the activities of daily routine, not to mention the usual term papers, reports, tests, athletic events, food and financial drives. The change in administration was very smooth. The courtyard took on a new look under the watchful eye of Mr. Carter, while the front of the building received a dressing up with trees and shrubbery.

Seniors celebrated upcoming graduation by visiting Cedar Point and rearranging the furniture one evening after hours.

Too soon, it is all over, this senior year of 1968; but it certainly is not forgotten.

The Editor extends sincere thanks to the staff members and her adviser, Mr. Webb; to Sylvart Studios, the Gazette, our advertising patrons, and to you the subscriber. Thanks for permitting us to pilot you through the course of "Opportunities Unlimited" here at MHS.
